WANT TO KNOW REASON OF HIRE OF OUTSIDE HELP

Demand For Explanation Is Caused By Protests Over
Policy of Employment

San Mateo County's unemployment relief committee was under fire at Monday's session of the board of supervisors, in Redwood City.

The issue Monday was the same as that which stirred countywide controversy before, the employment in this county by the relief committee of outside relief investigators. Supervisors demanded once again to know why the committee persisted in this policy when it was not customary elsewhere.

Demands for an explanation came after Mrs. Doris Scott Devo, Menlo Park welfare worker, said changes in the administration of county relief in the south end of the county are working a hardship on the needy. She said the committee had placed the Menlo area under the East Palo Alto branch office, and sometimes it was two weeks after a request for aid was made before it was acted upon.

Mrs. Devo declared she had requested that local people be assigned as investigators and was informed only outsiders could do the work because local people may favor their friends. Mrs. Devo said she had been connected with the Menlo Park work for a number of years and when local investigators were employed she knew of no favoritism.

General investigation of the entire relief setup in the county, hinted last week, appeared nearer as the supervisors made demands on the committee for an explanation of their position in the matter.

In speaking of the action complained of, Dr. C. V. Thompson, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, cited the statement credited to Vernon Northrup, state SERA executive, in which the latter is reported to have

THANKSGIVING SHOWS IN ROLL CALL RETURNS

A. L. Schafer, Red Cross manager in the Pacific Area, says there is every reason for genuine Thanksgiving by residents of the Pacific Coast. Economically, the western tier of states are not showing the distress manifested by some of those in mid-western and eastern districts.

"Early returns from the Red Cross Call, which will be brought to a close Thanksgiving Day, indicate the people are whole heartedly back of the Great Mother in supporting the welfare program in the service of humanity," Schafer said. "Dr. Will H. Chase, mayor and good Samaritan at Cordova, Alaska, telegraphed that not only had Cordova doubled its quota of 150 members, but had achieved the high mark of 500 members."

"This is typical of preliminary reports not only from Alaska, but Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington. Portland, Oregon, reports an enrollment of 18,201 members will be achieved in that city by Thanksgiving night. The objective of the entire area is 500,000 members."

"The Army Amateur Radio system, which has given the Red Cross effective service in disasters, will gather reports from 54 of the 325 chapters in the Pacific Area and flash them in on November 30."

"Bowen McCoy, who flew to Nome, Alaska, following the destructive fire there in September has just returned. He reports work was well under way on houses being built for fire refugees and these should be finished by December 1. The Red Cross is expending $25,000 on that project. Members of the Nome Advisory Committee are Judge Charles W. Thornton, U. S. Commissioner; Grant Jackson, president Miners and Merchants Bank; Alfred Lomen of the Lomen Commercial Company; Michael J. Walsh, city clerk and Mrs. Bertha McKay, social worker."

"Another relief unit is rehabilitating victims of last month's flood in the Montrose district of Los Angeles County."

"Judge Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, who was in San Francisco last Wednesday while returning to Washington, D. C. from the international Red Cross conference held in Tokyo, announced the American Red Cross has contributed $25,000 toward a relief fund being raised in Manila to aid the destitute in the latest typhoon to sweep the Philippine Islands."

COUNTY BOARD CREATES A FIRE COMMISSION TO SEEK SOLUTION

Official Member From Each District For Suggesting Protection Methods

CITE RECENT TRAGEDY

San Mateo County Supervisors have created an advisory fire commission, to make recommendations for improved fire protection in unincorporated areas of the county.

The commission will consist of one member from each of the five supervisorial districts, to be named at the meeting next week.

Request for the commission was made by appointment of Supervisor A. J. Witt, Daly City, following the recent house fire in the unincorporated area near Redwood City, which nearly resulted in the death of a child.

The Supervisor declared the county should make some provisions for protecting homes in areas outside of cities where there is little protection now. He said he believed a commission of competent fire chiefs could work out a solution to the problem.

Witt's plan provides that each supervisor select a fire department chief from each supervisorial district for a place on the committee. This is to confer with the board in outlining necessary steps toward protection of unincorporated areas.

PIONEER COUPLE ARE SURPRISED ON ANNIVERSARY

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wendell of 56 Vendome avenue gathered at their home last Saturday evening and surprised them on the occasion of their eighteenth wedding anniversary. The affair was arranged by the two children of the couple, Harry Wendell Jr. and Miss Betty Wendell.

The friends appeared suddenly as the Wendells were preparing to depart for an evening at the theater.

An entertainment of vocal and instrumental music, rendered by Mrs. Hooper and Miss Anita of the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge and the Swiss Orchestra was enjoyed during the evening.

At a late hour refreshments were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. H. Reichman of Woodside, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Falk of Redwood City, Mr. and Mrs. Walker and sister of Manteca, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bartell of San Francisco, Mr. Otto Ossinghaus, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schmidt, Mrs. Hubert and Miss Anita of San Francisco, Miss Katherine Rosecome, Miss Ruth Schauer, Mr. and Mrs. Staub, Mr. Francis Falk, Herbert Stacker and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Falch.

CELEBRATION OF TWO BIRTHDAYS

Mrs. H. Hutchings and daughter, Dolly West Hutchings, of Vista Grande avenue celebrated their birthdays last Saturday evening.

Dancing was enjoyed during the evening and at midnight a buffet supper was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. E. Waters and son Everett Jr. of Santa Rosa, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hutchings and son Harry Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. Albright of San Carlos, Mrs. L. Glos, Mrs. Dorothy Bernzott and son Billie, Miss Evelyn Lowden, Miss Eleanor Hutchings, Miss Jean Armstrong, Miss Bernice Andersen, Albert Perata, William Hutchings, Steve Pechuetti, Richard and Harold Hutchings.

Congress Should Take Up Highway Problem

By J. W. MARCHBANK
(Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work)

"Why is Roosevelt the idol of the American people?"

Such is the question asked by the liberal editor of one of the most liberal of publications.

And the editor proceeds to answer his own rhetorical query:

"Because he is trying."

The chief executive of the nation is trying to bring back opportunities for making a decent living to every citizen and not only the head of the executive branch of our democratic government, but the members of the legislative branch, the Congress—of that I am certain. By happy union of the two essential departments for carrying out the will of the people I am sure many worth-while measures will be enacted at the coming session of Congress.

As a pioneer in the north and a close observer of tendencies up there in all the years since the historic gold rushes, I have become convinced of the wisdom of the United States government, through the proper agencies, doing two things:

(1) Establishing trading posts at strategic points.

(2) Advancing $14,000,000 for the completion of the International Highway from Vancouver, British Columbia, to Fairbanks, Alaska.

My thought has ever been to make upstanding, self-respecting citizens out of at least 6,000,000 youths and men of middle age that are having a hard time of it in these parlous days. Give that immense peace-time army a chance to go out into the open and its members to live self-reliant lives, as all Americans should. No better place than Alaska could be selected for the experiment, if such it should be denominated. There is a wise way of spending the tax payers' money and a foolish way; no wiser could be devised than that of establishing trading posts in Alaska and of getting the construction of the great highway started. The peace-time army must have supplies—from the trading posts—and must have roads.

UNITED VETERANS NOMINATE HEADS

The San Mateo County United War Veterans Council resumed their meetings last Friday night, at Burlingame Legion Hall, with William H. Augustus, president.

It was unanimously agreed that the council again hold meetings monthly, on the third Friday of the month, and the next meeting will be on December 21.

Nomination of officers to serve during the 1935 term were made. For president, Dr. J. N. Blood of Redwood City; T. Louis Chess for vice-president, for treasurer, J. W. Allen of San Bruno, for sergeant at arms, A. J. Dempsey, of Redwood City and Frank Gomes. These nominees will be voted upon and installed at the next meeting.

LOCAL PICTURE SERIAL

The Record will print in the near future a serial story of the screen play, "Broadway Bill," which was filmed at Tanforan race track during the past summer.

The picture starred Myrna Loy and Warner Baxter, and contained a large star supporting cast. It is now being shown in the East with great success.

The serial consists of six installments of two columns each and will begin about December 14.

with the "international" as the main artery.

The joint report of the Canadian-United States Commission on the proposed International Highway states that large deposits of gold, silver, copper, lead, zinc and coal would be brought within the reach of the prospector by the construction of the highway. The commission also found that the country affected is extremely rich in furs and that dairying, stock raising, the production of small fruits and vegetables and all types of agriculture could be made profitable with the providing of transportation facilities.

As I have pointed out on many occasions, it is an empire teeming with natural wealth awaiting the coming of men with sufficient initiative to get that wealth.

Here is one item worth consideration—more than 11,629 million feet of good timber would be made available by the construction of the highway.

As to the wisdom of the move, that is, furnishing funds for the highway work, we quote a well written editorial typed by Earl W. Knight, editor of The Alaska Weekly:

Both the Canadian and American governments are bawling the passing of the frontiers to which the population of industrial centers have turned formerly in times of industrial stress. Both governments are employing thousands of men at beggarly wages and upon almost useless work in order to supply the bare necessities of life and forestall revolution. Millions, even billions are being poured into building trails through forests which will be overgrown before the foot of man touches them, in making beautifully rounded banks on the edges of our highways, in repairing and constructing roads with wheelbarrows and shovels instead of modern equipment and other useless modes of allowing men to kill time in order they may not feel themselves objects of charity.

Why not build this highway with man power that enlists for the duration of the job and three years thereafter paying a subsistence wage during construction with a lump sum at the end of the job to enable the men to help build the country when the job is finished?

There's a question worth pondering, by lawmaker and private citizen alike.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED

Miss Inez G. L. Bowen, daughter of Mrs. Sallie Bowen of San Diego avenue, became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Williams, son of Mrs. Laura Williams of San Diego avenue, last Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Church of the Nazarene. Rev. J. M. Gill performed the ceremony.

The attractive bride wore an afternoon gown of brown silk with hat to match and a corsage of lilies of the valley and pansies.

Mrs. Doris Bowen, sister in law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a blue silk afternoon gown with matching hat and corsage of lilies of the valley and tea roses.

Mr. Weldon Bowen was best man. After the ceremony, a family gathering was held at the home of the bride's mother.

The young couple, who have the best wishes of a host of friends, will make their home with the groom's mother on San Diego avenue.

NINETEENTH PACIFIC COAST SHOW TO START

New Policy Is Outlined For Future For Members Of Association

The nineteenth Annual Pacific Auto Show, scheduled for the San Francisco Civic Auditorium, January 19 to 26, inclusive, bids fair to be the most colorful automotive display staged here for many years, according to Don Gilmore, president of the San Francisco Motor Car Dealers' Association.

Plans for the forthcoming presentation of motordom's 1935 creations are going forward at top speed under the supervision of Fred W. Pabst, William L. Hughson and Eaton McMillan, members of the dealer association show committee, of which Pabst is the chairman. George A. Wahlgreen is again functioning as show manager.

"Advance preparations for an automobile show of the magnitude of the one to be held here in January call for a lot of hard work on the part of experienced men," said President Gilmore. "and we are fortunate in having a committee shaping our show activities this year that is composed of men who have had much experience in handling of shows in the past. We feel certain that our motor mart in January will be a pace-setter for other large cities of the nation."

The 1935 display will be a 100 per cent association member affair.

"No dealer who is not a member of the Motor Car Dealers' Association will be allowed to exhibit," Gilmore said, "and where there are a number of dealers handling a line and the exhibit is put on co-operatively, only those who belong to the association or are operating under a distributor who is a member, will be permitted to have salesmen in attendance."

This is the first time, according to President Gilmore, that this rule has been enforced; and, he says, it will tend to bring the association members into closer relationship for mutual benefit.

"The fact that the San Francisco Motor Car Dealers' Association passed a resolution last week condemning the practice of caravanning automobiles from eastern manufacturing centers to California is ample proof that the dealer body is solidly united for the common good; and by making our 1935 Pacific Auto Show a 100 per cent association exposition, it is believed that further advances will be made in the direction of co-operative effort."

LUNCHEON GIVEN TO HONOR NEWLYWEDS

Mrs. Laura Williams of San Diego avenue entertained at a reception on Saturday evening in honor of her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who were married Wednesday evening of last week.

The evening was spent in dancing, after which dainty refreshments were served. The dining room and table were prettily decorated in pink and white crepe paper and flowers.

The happy couple received many attractive gifts.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames A. De Martini, R. Johns Jr., H. C. Tucker, A. Church Jr., W. Rose, R. Fessenden, E. R. Clark, A. Leever, Welden Bowen and A. Church Sr.; Mesdames R. Johns Sr., Laura Williams and Sallie Bowen; Misses Annie Johns, Mary Jane Bigazzi and E. Young; Messrs. William Williams, Frank Gamba, Mat Maylere, Rod Ginini and Howard Williams.

CLIMBER TOO HIGH! COULDN'T GET DOWN

Bob Daley of Cavour street found himself in a serious predicament on Monday morning of this week, when he climbed high into a tree in the rear of Sweeney's garage on Mission street and became too frightened to come down without help.

A neighbor called the local police department and informed them of the boy's difficulty.

A. J. Bodien and Archie Banfield responded to the call for aid and arrived on the scene in a short time and rescued the lad from his lofty perch.

With a rope bound around his shoulders, the young fellow was lowered to the ground by his rescuers.

Once more on terra firma, Bob discovered that he aspired to be a Boy Scout and said he would join a troop in the near future so that he can learn to climb down trees as well as up.

CALLED TO STUDY A CONSOLIDATED SYSTEM SCHEME

City-County Governing Idea
To Be Discussed About
Luncheon Table

Mayor Allan F. Hunt, Burlingame, today called a meeting for December 4 to launch a study of city and county form of government, now being urged for San Mateo county.

Last week the county supervisors named a committee to consist of the county executive, the district attorney, mayors and city attorneys of every city in the county to study the city and county plan and report back to the board. Mayor Hunt was named chairman of that committee.

In his call today for the first meeting, Mayor Hunt announced it would be held in the city hall at Burlingame, next Tuesday, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The invitation was extended also to representatives of city and county Chambers of Commerce.

Mayor Hunt urged that representatives of every municipality be present so that the committee could get to work on what he said is an important task. He asked that city officials bring figures to show their operating costs and any other data which will shed light on the matter.

Following are the representatives invited: Mayor J. A. Donohoe, and City Attorney A. H. Redington, Atherton; Mayor John P. Larsen and City Attorney H. H. Smith, Bayshore; Mayor Chris L. Jordan and City Attorney Albert Mansfield, Belmont; Mayor Allan F. Hunt and City Attorney John F. Davis, Burlingame; Mayor H. H. Smith and City Attorney J. E. McCurdy, Daly City; Mayor Charles Lambert and City Attorney Albert Mansfield, Redwood City; Mayor E. J. McGuire and City Attorney R. A. Rapsey, San Bruno; Mayor Asa E. Hull and City Attorney Albert Mansfield, San Carlos; Mayor A. R. Cotton and City Attorney E. A. Wilson, San Mateo; Mayor Reebe Lloyd and City Attorney J. W. Coleber, South San Francisco; Mayor Robert G. Hooker and City Attorney A. H. Redington, Hillsborough; Mayor C. J. Newell Sr., and City Attorney Hall C. Ross Lawndale; Mayor James E. Cooper, and City Attorney J. E. O'Keefe, Menlo Park; County Executive Walter T. Kellogg; District Attorney Edmond Scott, and all Chambers of Commerce delegates.

BOARD MEETING OF CROCKER UNIT

Mrs. Nellie Caine and Mrs. Ann Eason will be the hostesses at the Executive Board Luncheon of the Crocker P.T.A. next Monday, December 3, at 1 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Caine, 471 Bellevue avenue.

Members of the Unit as well as the Executive Board are invited to attend. The meeting of the board will take place immediately after the luncheon is over. Those not able to attend the luncheon will please attend the board meeting at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Nora Clifton, President and Mrs. J. E. Walker, Past President and at present Parliamentarian of the Crocker P.T.A., attended the last meeting of the Seventeenth District P.T.A. last Friday. They both report a very interesting meeting, and the members of Crocker Unit are looking forward to hearing an excellent report from each of these ladies at our next meeting, Tuesday, December 11.

CHILDREN ENJOYING SUPERVISED PLAY

Children of all ages joined hands and entered into a spirit of play and hearty laughter at the school play grounds last Saturday.

Supervised play is bringing the children into a closer harmony of good fellowship.

Play will be supervised again tomorrow at the General Pershing and Woodrow Wilson school grounds from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

KIDNAP TRIO IN COURT

The three local youths—Archie Bigazzi, 16; Natchie Mendola, 16, and Thomas Hogan, 19—accused of the abduction of Westley Strong, 27, of Bellevue avenue on October 20 of this year, will enter pleas before Superior Judge Swart in Redwood City next Monday.

The accused youths were to have appeared to plead in court Monday of this week, but the case was laid over for a week.

JOTTINGS FROM THE LOCAL FIELD

Don't forget the big Band Dance at Colombo Hall Saturday evening, December 15, Benefit Uniform Fund.

A notice of intention to wed has been filed in San Mateo County by Richard H. Gingery, 23, 2031 Pacific avenue, San Francisco, and Florence C. Zugar, 19, of San Diego avenue, Daly City.

Justin Warner Jr. of Templeton avenue returned home from the Children's Hospital Tuesday of this week.

We wish to announce to our many friends Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church will hold its regular monthly whist on the third Friday of the month, December 21. Mrs. Cove and her committee promise to make this, our Christmas whist a wonderful success.

Old Glory Post No. 2044, V. F. W., and Auxiliary will give a whist in the Masonic Temple on Friday evening, December 14, at 8:30 sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dorn of Risel street spent last week as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Oliver of Berkeley.

Wedding bells rang out in Reno, Nev., last weekend for Arnold N. Jensen, 28, of San Francisco and Susan Sutter, 19, of Colma.

Mr. and Mrs. Harden of Bellevue avenue are entertaining Mrs. Harden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of Kansas City, over the holidays.

Mrs. James Gorman of Hanover street has been seriously ill for the past week.

Mrs. Sara Nordgren of Bellevue avenue spent Monday of this week in Redwood City, where she was granted citizenship papers.

James H. Clifton and family spent Sunday with friends in Santa Clara.

Mrs. Viola Dillon of San Mateo avenue entertained at luncheon at her home on Thursday of last week. She had as guests Mrs. E. Maier, Mrs. Maud Ray, Miss Katherine McKeown and Miss Pat Callan.

Mrs. R. Arthur of Redwood City and Mrs. E. J. Finnigan and son Gerry of South City were luncheon guests on Monday at the home of their mother, Mrs. E. Wolf of Los Banos avenue.

Miss Evelyn Fessenden of San Diego avenue, recently appointed clerk in the new McMarr store on Mission street attended the McMarr dance on last Tuesday evening in San Francisco.

Mrs. M. Madtson of Farley, Cal., was a guest, Sunday, at the home of Mrs. E. Wolf of Los Banos avenue.

Mrs. Carl Nelson of Mission street, who was on the sick list last week, suffering from a severe cold, is up and around again.

A marriage license has been issued in San Mateo County to Charles Aiello, 24, 3236 San Jose avenue, and Antonette Sampino, 20, Daly City.

Pioneer Succumbs

Mrs. Nellie Sweetman, 63, pioneer resident, passed away at her home on Vista Grande, avenue and Miriam street Monday evening after a short illness.

Mrs. Sweetman had conducted a grocery store in Daly City for many years. She was the widow of the late Lawrence Sweetman.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning. Inurnment was at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park.

UNIFORM FUND IS PROGRESSING

The Daly City Band members are making progress with securing contributions toward their uniform fund, but the response has not been as good as should be expected for such a worthy cause.

Several affairs have been arranged for the purpose of raising money for this fund, one by the Community Welfare Association in the nature of a dance at Colombo Hall on Saturday evening, December 15, is expected to be a rousing success.

The boys are practicing faithfully each Tuesday evening at the City Hall Auditorium, and are entitled to your support in this matter.

The band played last Thursday evening at a large football rally in San Francisco to arouse enthusiasm for the East-West Shrine football game, at which our band will also play, and their work elicited much favorable comment. It is said there is a probability that the band will be asked to perform over the National Broadcasting system in the near future. Of course, this would prove a wonderful advertisement for Daly City and one all its citizens could be proud of.

The boys will be around to see you some time soon, and don't fail to do your part.

BREAK DECIDES GAME - PLANSKY LEADS SLUGFEST

Good Work Of Daly City Team At Bat Nullified By Errors In Field

The jinx that has followed the Daly City nine during the league season, wended its way to the Harrison diamond, Sunday afternoon, and again that demon "ill-luck," coupled with a boner by Umpire Burke, withheld the local boys from victory.

Nearly everyone has read of the "boners" being pulled, but the Recreation League has this one to its credit, which may never be duplicated again in history. In the sixth inning, with one out and Holmes on first, Plansky flied to deep left center. Murphy, tearing after the ball, managed to knock it down and take it on the bounce. Returning the ball to the infield, Hammack touched second base, and both runners were out, according to the decision of Umpire Burke, who claimed the ball had been caught on the fly.

Holmes pitched a masterly game and with the least bit of support, would have completely tamed the Rough Rider Cords; but, with his teammates making five costly errors, which netted six runs, the handicap too much for this youngster to overcome.

Plansky led the batfest with four safeties, including two doubles, while Maloney and Holmes furnished timely bingles when needed.

HOLD "OPEN HOUSE"

Mr. and Mrs. William Partridge held "open house" recently for their friends at their home on San Diego avenue.

Although the day was very stormy, it did not prevent the gathering from enjoying a pleasant afternoon and evening. Delicious refreshments were served to about fifty who attended and who no doubt will long remember the happy event.

Big Game Party

Miss Clara Hammer and brother Dan Hammer of Willits street entertained about thirty guests last Saturday evening at their home in honor of the Stanford football victory.

The living and dining rooms were beautifully decorated in the college colors, one in red and white for Stanford and the other in blue and gold for California.

The table also was prettily decorated in the college colors, with pretty paper hats as favors.

Having had such a delightful time on Saturday night, many of the guests returned on Sunday afternoon to finish the party.

Hawaiian Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Silvanes and children of Los Banos avenue and Miss Jane De La Cruz of Willits street had the pleasure of attending a Hawaiian birthday party given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Ai of Moss street, San Francisco, Saturday evening.

On entering the home the guests were presented with a crepe paper flower lei representing all the different flowers made by Mrs. James Ai.

The evening was spent in singing and dancing and at midnight a buffet supper was served. A huge birthday cake adorned the center of the table.

Still Alarm Fire

A still fire alarm was turned in to the local police department Tuesday morning of this week at 11:55 o'clock.

Officers Schramm and Reardon, George Hopman and Superintendent Bodien of the Water Works responded and found a mattress afire in the basement of a vacant house at 268 Los Olivos avenue.

The fire was presumed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

GOOD PITCHING IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THIRD WIN

Losing Team Secures Only Three Scratch Hits And Twelve Batsmen Fan

Jack Gerstenberg contributed another victory to his long list of triumphs, the victim being the Del Monte Creamery Nine.

Gerstenberg allowed his opponents three scratch hits, and fanned twelve swatsmen; His team mates pounded the offerings of Kennedy opposing pitcher for fourteen solid bingles, and ten runs.

Varni, Gerstenberg, and Petrocchi led the hitting assault, each garnering three hits in four attempts.

The Royce team play the fast Sunset Federals Saturday afternoon at the Club House diamond at 2:30.

"POT LUCK" SUPPER

Miss Winifred Winn of Miriam street entertained a group of friends last Friday evening at a "Pot Luck" and Thanksgiving supper at her home.

After dinner games were enjoyed by the following guests: Misses Martha Page, Elizabeth Abbott, Margaret Hull, Hele Hicks, Frances Winn, Iris Winn and Wilma Hardy; Messrs. Paul McKellup, Louis Fignoni, Bob Garner, Gordon Curtis, Perry Neff, Alec McArthur, Bob Foss and Bernard Winn.

OLAND SUBSTITUTES TAN FOR MAKE-UP

Charlie Chan, Earl Derr Biggers' famous Chinese detective, operates on the theory that an active body means an active mind. At least that is the practice of Warner Oland who brings the fictional character to life on the screen at the Daly City Theater Sunday and Monday, December 2 and 3.

Oland has a beach cottage right on the line dividing Ventura and Santa Barbara counties. On week-ends he swims as often as five times a day. The first dip in the Pacific comes before breakfast, then one in the middle of the morning, and still another just before lunch. The heat of he afternoon calls for a fourth swim, and the day is climaxed by a fifth immediately preceding dinner.

Oland's latest interpretation of Chan is in the Fox Film production, "Charlie Chan in London," current at the local theater.

Last summer Oland acquired such a heavy tan that, on returning to the studio, he needed no make-up as the dark skinned oriental sleuth.

The second feature on the bill will be "Young and Beautiful," featuring William Haines, Judith Allen, Ted Fio Rito and his orchestra, and the Wampas Baby Stars. This star studded musical sensation has been written and produced around the most famous girls in the world—the Wampas Baby Stars of 1934.

OUR CITY DADS HAVE BUSY MEET

The Daly City council met in regular session at the city hall, Monday evening, with all councilmen answering to roll call.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and evoked a discussion regarding a resolution authorizing Mayor Smith to sign an agreement asked for by the State Highway Commission regarding expenditure of the city's share of the state gasoline tax allocation. The claim was made that such a resolution had been regularly adopted by the council at the previous meeting, whereas the minutes showed the matter had been passed by resolution. The city clerk contended there had been no such resolution before the council and that it had not been delivered to him, hence it could not have been adopted.

The matter was finally adjusted by the city attorney preparing the resolution, and it was then adopted.

A communication from Mrs. Mary E. Heuer for permission to pave the parkway in front of her property on San Diego avenue was referred to the engineer and street superintendent. Communication from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company requesting permission to construct a conduit under a sidewalk on Eastlake avenue referred to the engineer.

A communication from the California League of Municipalities thanked the council for the city's contribution to the league legislative fund.

Justice of the Peace W. H. Clay requested use of the court room and an office in the city hall, to be paid for by the county. He was asked to learn the amount the supervisors would pay for use of the court room, and if the sum is satisfactory such use would be granted. However, it was stated that no room for office purposes is available in the building.

George Brenner, director of the Daly City Band, requested a donation for the band uniform fund. The sum of $50 was appropriated by the council on motion of Councilman Selmi.

Complaints about heavy blasting in the Market Street Railway quarry referred to the chief of police.

Citizens residing on Miriam street complained of the condition and the method of cleaning the sewer on that street. Claim was made that debris from the sewer backed up into basements and that when attention was called to this condition the attempts at remedying the situation were not adequate or efficiently conducted.

The council adjourned after approving a large number of claims against the city.

OLD GLORY POST HAS NEW LEADERS

(By James H. Clifton)

With new officers for the year 1934-35—R. Brulez, Commander; M. V. Jensen, Senior Vice Commander; Jack Bedford; Officer of the Day, Robert Decoursy; Adjutant Quartermaster, Fred Linser; Guard, Charles Ireton—Old Glory Post No. 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held their first meeting since installation in the Masonic Hall last Friday evening.

To show the incoming officers that the Post is behind them, 100 per cent for the coming year, the recruiting committee presented twelve new recruits, who were given the initiatory work by the Post Degree Team.

Among those to join the ranks were, Fred Dannenberg, who was the first commander of Post 410, American Legion; Mr. Hill, Junior Past Commander of Post No. 410; Mr. Miller, Mr. Boyd, Mr. Adams, Mr. Forrester, Mr. Deleware, Mr. Cone, Mr. Hine, Mr. Seborn, Mr. Ackenbach, and Mr. Bettencourt.

Commander Brulez appointed the following Comrades to serve on committees for the coming year: Ways and Means, Walter Dorn; Recruiting, Jack Lewis; Welcome, J. Salagari and M. Monahan; Visiting, A. Albertus; Historian, J. W. Allen; Patriotic Instructor, Mr. Thomas; Post Entertainment, Robert Decoursy; Publicity, James H. Clifton; Service Officer, Fred Linser; Bugler, W. Parodi.

The next meeting will be held Friday, December 14. A short meeting will precede the whist to start at 7.30 o'clock sharp. Whist to start at 8.30 sharp. Come all, and get your share of the many valuable prizes offered by the committee.

The Post and Auxiliary will have a Christmas Tree for the children again this year. The date has not been set yet, but it promises to be better than in past years. Committee in charge are Walter Dorn, Fred Gaiter, Marie Gaiter and Louise Crowley.

Old Glory Post Degree Team have been very active for the past six weeks up and down the peninsula, also invading San Francisco numerous evenings.

Get that recruit for the next class initiation to be held on January 25. You owe that much to the Post.

DON'T KNOW WHO'S WHO!

President Hoover said at the dedication of the Harding Memorial: "He trusted men whom he believed were his friends." President Roosevelt recently wrote: "What I meant was that I would veto the bill, and I don't care who you tell it to." Even the greatest get mixed sometimes in the use of "who" and "whom," even as you and I.

This popular author of best-sellers has written a fascinating romance about Penelope Gatlin, who sometimes forgot she was an heiress and became Nance Belden, daring and derisive darling of the underworld... How she was rescued by young Dr. Burt from the mental shadows that threatened her with years in prison, how her beauty was restored, how she came at last into her due of love and happiness is told as only Peter B. Kyne can tell such a tale. Do not miss this story. Follow it as it appears serially in this paper.

CALIFORNIA News of the Week

Governor Merriam has appointed Joseph W. Vickers to replace Superior Judge Guy Bush, who resigned after his Tia Juana marriage to a former wife of a man he sentenced to jail.

Not only was the Big Game between California and Stanford the most exciting contest of the season, it was the costliest in point of human life. Four persons were killed, either through heart attacks from watching the game or from auto accidents directly following it.

Desiring to equip every police automobile and motorcycle of the California highway patrol with receiving sets and to establish seven master transmitting stations, the patrol's tentative budget includes $300,000 for this purpose. Adoption of the plan would make it possible for the police to blanket every corner of the state with radio calls.

Sale of the Fox Theaters Corporation to the National Theaters Corporation for $17,000,000 is believed to be one of the largest sums ever involved in Federal bankruptcy proceedings. The Fox chain includes 125 theaters on the Pacific Coast, and the price paid represents claims against the organization.

Sentenced to prison for robbery, Bessie Vegliato, 22, and mother of a two-month-old baby, has appealed to Governor Merriam for clemency. She claims that she only accompanied her husband when he committed robbery to dissuade him from the act.

After the final shipment of the two billions in gold from San Francisco to Denver's mint had been made, officials gave the reason for the transfer. The government wanted to be sure that the bullion was in a location that was impregnable to foreign invasion. Meanwhile, $600,000 a month is coming into the Bay city mint from state mines.

With excess production limited to six companies, California oil producers are looking forward to increased prices early in 1935, due to an intensive curtailment program. The government is planning action against the "rebel" companies.

Several hundred brakemen and conductors of Placer county are rejoicing because they are receiving checks varying from a few dollars to $800 in the differential in back pay for nine years. The men won a court decision over the Southern Pacific Company concerning back wages on mountain runs.

As she was being carried along the street by her kidnaper, the Reedley (Fresno county) fire siren screamed and eight-year-old Mildred Skidmore was dropped as the man who had abducted her from her home fled. The girl was taken to her family, who had come home to find her gone. They had telephoned police, and Chief James Hughes immediately sounded the alarm.

Eureka has taken the first steps toward financing its new Mad River municipal water supply system by calling for bids on $559,000 in bonds, the city's share of the $1,134,000 job. Remainder of the cost will be borne by the Public Works Administration.

Lawyers met at Berkeley the other day to try and discredit that city's lie detector. They allowed themselves to be hooked up to the instrument, then answered questions fired at them by the police chief. Glib as they were, they were unable to impeach the testimony of the machine.

With the Central Valley Project heading President Roosevelt's list of 10 proposed water developments on the Pacific Coast, California is hopeful that the report being made of the project by the National Resources Board will contain recommendations for action. The President will consider the survey before submitting it to Congress in January.

Santa Ana is to have a new city hall and bids have already been received for the project. The city plans to spend a little over a hundred thousand dollars for the new structure.

Already more than 40 floats have been entered in the 1935 Tournament of Roses in Pasadena. The theme for the parade on January first is to be "Golden Legends."

The largest single order ever placed with the state printing department has been received. It consists of publishing and binding over 850,000 spellers and readers.

Claiming that wine is a food, California intoners are launching a determined drive against 1935 legislation levying additional taxes on wine.

Twenty-seven ships have been ordered to Mare Island for repairs during the next six months. The cruiser Raleigh, Houston, Detroit and Memphis are included in the list.

The managers of the Glacier Point Mountain House at Yosemite have been marooned at the hotel by two feet of snow. They can communicate with the outside world by telephone and have enough provisions to last them several weeks, but if snow continues they may have to stay all winter, unless they get out.

Furs Are Gorgeous This Winter

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

NO MATTER how lavishly a coat or a suit or a dress be trimmed with fur this season, according to the present ways of fashion, it is not too lavishly furred. The same is true of the new separate fur pieces and "sets" which include muffs, the more sumptuous and the more spectacular the better do they interpret the latest style trends.

The big theme among furriers this season is capes—cares that are made of furs so gorgeous and grand they look worth a king's ransom. To illustrate, see the cape centered in the picture. This luxurious silver fox cape is semi-circular in shape, fastens on the left shoulder and has four tails fanning to the back. The beauty of capes such as this is that they can be worn with different costumes, imparting an air of distinction wherever they go. Of course, we do not have to call attention to the attractive evening gloves which this lady is wearing, for no doubt they registered at first glance. They are of white suede, shirred in an openwork pattern as you see.

The separate cape theme is by no means confined to evening fashions; on the contrary, the newest thing going in the way of a fur piece is the fur cape which can be worn with either the cloth coat or the dress, if you prefer, which is made of a wintry good-looking woolen. The idea is conveyed in the stunning outfit to the right in the group. Here is something practical and smart. The color of this superb Russian lynx which forms the cape, blends in with the tone of the cloth to perfection. A particularly likable feature of this handsome cape is that while it is really a separate piece, it looks as if it were really an applied trimming. When you stop to think of it, what a worthwhile possession a separate fur cape such as this is—wear it with anything, dress, coat or suit.

This young woman's hat, if you are wanting to know, is a brown antelope felt trimmed with leather. The most important bit of news in regard to this hat is that it has an embossed monogram at one side of the crown just over the right eye. It is monogrammed because the fashionable thing to do is to monogram most everything this season.

Mademoiselle sitting so placidly in the picture has on one of those sleek, patrician looking full-length gray kid-skin coats which are so beautifully slenderizing. The model shown has a double sailor collar (turn it up or down) which is youthful in line and exceedingly flattering. The sleeves are full below the elbow, which is a characteristic feature of many of the newest coats. The black felt sombrero is edged and banded with black wool.

If you are having a suit tailored, let it reflect Russian inspiration in that its tunic-like coat be bordered with fur all around, even up the front or side-front fastening. There should be an understating collar fencing the throat. A cosack turban of matching fur with a muff of the same are essential to complete the picture.

The three-quarter coat, all of fur, with wide belt across the front and full peasant sleeves, is also a favorite. Other fur style notes point to the return of gray squirrel into favor, also borders of tawny, showy furs around hemlines or bandings of flat furs such as caracul or nutria. A black cloth cosack outfit with bandings, tall turban and muff of black caracul, is chic.

THREE NEW GOWNS NOVEL TO EXTREME

Three dresses Parisiennes like:

One from Mirande called "Pour Plaire," which, interpreted, means "to please," and it should, for it is a dinner frock in black velvet with the lower portion of the bulbous sleeves made of bright blue velvet. It has a belt of the bright blue velvet, too, and the neckline is shaped something like a stirrup, round in the back and squared off in the front.

The second model is by Rosevienne and named "Satinco," after the novel new fabri: of which it is made, combining satin with a mat surface. It is an afternoon dress of flame-colored satin combined with incrustated diagonal bands of the reverse side of the satin which is mat.

The third item is from Irmone, who has called it "Ciros." It is a coat in brown wool trimmed with frosted brown lamb as collar and cuffs. Both collar and cuffs are small and discreet, and the coat has a tailored look about it at first glance, but on second glance you see it is also a semi-dress coat.

Trains Will Be in Vogue This Winter, Says Paris

Trains will be in vogue this winter. Some have a long panel that starts at the waistline at the back; others feature a Watteau pleat or court mantle effect at the back.

Worth shows trains with a long flared volant that develops from the back of the dress. Maggy Rouff has very formal dresses with a wing effect that is used for a train. Auguste Bernard obtains effects by several shirred volants that are continued down to the ground in irregular effects.

Parchment for Buttons

Thick parchment made up into odd buttons add to the line of novelties being launched this year. They are available curled up on the edges like ancient scrolls or just slightly bent like bits of peanut brittle.

NEW HIGH TURBANS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Hats have gone frankly Russian. Here is one of the high turbans which is distinctly of Russian influence. It is fashioned of black hatters' plush. Not only have hats gone Russian, but costumes in the winter mode bespeak this influence in no uncertain terms. In every collection there is a predominance of Cossack tunics, Cossack turbans, wide-belted Russian effects, high military-looking collars and fur borderings galore.

Neckwear Is Feminine

There is a revival in delicate, truly feminine neckwear. Very smart are the new styles in sheer chiffon, combined with lace and trimmed with metal thread stitching, especially in feather stitching.

HOW TO SHOOT

By Bob Nichols

Shooting Editor, Field and Stream

MANY good shots prefer the single-barrel gun. Guns in this class are the pump-gun, the automatic, and also the so-called "over-and-under." The last named is really a double-barrel gun. But its barrels are superimposed, one on top of the other, so that it offers the single-barrel alignment of the true single-barrel guns such as the pump and auto-loader.

The reason they give for their preference is that the single tube is easier and quicker to aim. And more accurate to aim.

In my opinion, this preference is largely imaginary. I, too, shoot the single-tube gun and prefer it to the double-barrel. But I have tested myself time and again on the skeet field and find that I shoot just as well with either type of gun.

The single-barrel shooter's most commonly expressed objection to the double-barrel gun is that the two barrels confuse him and cause him to "cross-fire." What he means is that his eye unconsciously lines up either one of the barrels, usually the left barrel in the case of a right-handed shooter. Instead of lining up the center of the gun on the target. Obviously, if your eye is unconsciously aiming the left barrel of a double-barrel, the chances are that you will almost certainly shoot behind the flying target.

My answer to the single-tube versus the double-barrel gun controversy is this: If you are so conscious of your gun that two tubes out there instead of only one confuses you—then I say you are paying too much attention to your gun, and you are not shooting a shotgun the way a shotgun should be shot!

In the first place, your eyes should be at "universal focus." In other words, your eyes, both wide open, should be aware of everything in a fairly wide field of vision. Roughly, I should say that about 60 per cent of your vision should be concentrated on the target, about 30 per cent on the gun, and about 10 per cent dispersed over an area perhaps ten yards on both sides of the target. I think this proportion is very nearly correct for shots in the open.

Note the great advantage of this, say in quail hunting for instance. Your faithful old dog stands on rigid point. You walk in carefully and flush the covey. Up they go with a roar. With your eyesight correctly proportioned to the first bird you pick out, to your gun, and to the remaining birds—you quickly knock down your first shot, swing like a flash on the second, which your 10 per cent vision makes you keenly aware of, and if you are quick enough in your gun handling and are shooting a repeater you may even get in a third shot. And after all the shooting's over you know where the main body of the birds went and you can immediately start for the right patch of cover to begin taking your singles.

The man who uses too much of his vision in watching his gun—or the man who shoots with one eye closed—can't begin to do this. After the first shot he is floundering, and when his eyes finally focus on the second bird he needs the range of a full-choke barrel to catch it—and the third shot on the rise is almost impossible. Moreover, usually he will be in the dark as far as knowing where all the rest of the birds flew to.

For the frequent shot one gets in thick woods and brush—especially on grouse, and quite often on quail—here I think the really good shot seldom sees his gun. His vision is concentrated about 80 per cent on the target and 20 per cent dispersed over an area around and ahead of the target. This is called the "snap" shot. It is pure, instinctive gun pointing. It can be extremely accurate. But it should be used only in emergency—never in open country where easy, deliberate aiming is possible. For the deliberate aim is the surest killer.

Denmark's Bicycle Rider Always Has Right of Way

In Denmark, writes Harry A. Franck in "A Scandinavian Summer," the bicycle always has the right of way. There are no exceptions and no excuses. Automobile drivers who dislike dodging bicycles ought certainly to leave their cars behind when they visit the little land of the Danes. True, most two-wheeled riders there usually hold out a hand to right or left when about to swerve from a straightforward route—so habitually, in fact, that many Danes unconsciously do so even on foot! and not a bad idea at that. But a cyclist may cut in from either side at any time on any street or road.

An excellent highway runs up the east coast of the island of Zealand, from Copenhagen to Hamlet's Elsinore and the popular sea beach beyond. But it is not open to automobiles on Sundays during the summer. The constant motionless sailing through the air of solemn faced people on bicycles—high-tailed ministers of the church, frock-tailed ministers of the government, haughty ladies in limousine garb, stodgy old ladies from the country, waiters in full dress, irrespective of the hour of the day—is one of the principal sights of Denmark. Its most distinguishing characteristic. Out in the country old peasant women whom you would never suspect of mounting anything more unseemly than a rocking chair, sedately and noiselessly glide past on bicycles.

MISUNDERSTOOD

As the ship was about to leave the harbor an old lady was knitting on deck. "Cast off there," shouted an officer.

"Thank you, officer," said the old lady tartly, "but I am quite capable of doing my own knitting."—Ashington Collieries Magazine.

Jacky Knew

The school teacher was taking a class in local geography.

"Now, boys," he said, "can you name any of the chief products of the Midlands?"

"Hardware, sir," said Tommy, as the teacher pointed to him.

"Quite correct," replied the teacher; then, turning sharply to a boy in the front row, he said: "What is hardware, Jack?"

"(Corduroy trousers, sir.)—London Tit-Bits.

Oysters

Ruthie's big sister was in the hospital for a serious operation. The doctor reported that he found a place in her stomach that was covered with ulcers.

The next day a neighbor asked Ruthie how her sister was.

"Oh!" she replied airily, "the doctor found a whole bunch of oysters in her stomach."—Indianapolis News.

Golf Course Chat

Two golfers, excellent friends, who, like so many players, enjoyed spoofing each other about their play, had just completed the course.

"Jerry," remarked one of them, "you really should have a man to follow you around and replace the turf."

"The same man," replied Jerry, "could make a day of it by following you around and returning the place."

Wrong Both Ways

The employer was interviewing an applicant for the office boy's job.

"Surely," he said, "you are the boy I saw trying to climb into my orchard."

"Well, yes, sir; but I didn't really get in."

"Then you can go. I have no use for failures in my business."—Stray Stories.

HAD THE "GOODS" ON SMITH

"As I thought, Smith is flirting, not fishing."

"Where do you get that?"

"From his letters. He mentions nothing but a girl named Tuna."

Business Is Business

"Yassah," said old Link, "business very good. Done bought a pig for ten dollars, traded pig for a barrer, barrer for a calf, calf for a bicycle, and sold de bicycle for ten dollars."

"But yo' don't make nothing, Link!"

"Sho' nough, but look at de business Ah been doin'."—Toronto Globe.

A Prudent Suggestion

"Many people have suffered embarrassment because of their social aspirations."

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "Before you insist on getting into the swim you want to make quite sure you are a swimmer."

Financial Note

"I notice by a Wall Street item that the bulls have stopped fighting the bears."

"Yes, they both have all they can do, fighting the wolf at the door."

Playing Safe

Mother—As soon as you're asleep the angels will come into your room to guard you.

Betty—Oh! well, take my chocolates off the dressing table and put them under my pillow, please!

BLOUSE SERVING DOUBLE PURPOSE

Patterns 9132 and 9133

One of the most pleasant things about the returning vogue of the suit is that blouses are again high style. Women who pride themselves upon the ability to make a limited budget go a long way love their blouses. Think of the same suit, for instance, with the two different blouses sketched today. Pattern 9133 is a simple affair of tailored lines with pleats that flare out at the bottom in a chic little peplum effect. Pattern 9132 has its becoming surprise accentuated by a graceful frill. Pattern 9132 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38.

40, 42 and 44. Size 36 requires 2 1/4 yards 39 inch fabric.

Pattern 9133 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 2 1/4 yards 39 inch fabric.

Complete, diagrammed sew chart included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Send your order to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 232 West Eighteenth Street, New York.

PRIVILEGED DISCOURTESY

"Senatorial courtesy is not what it used to be."

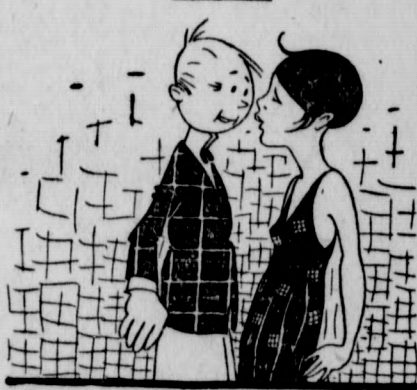

"Perhaps not at present," answered Senator Sorghum. "We need to get rid of a certain impression that successful discourtesy is an evidence of superior influence."

Paris and Bust

"Darling, have you made all arrangements for our elopement?"

"Yes, my love. We take the Zepelin to South America, get married in Rio, announce our marriage from New York, ask for forgiveness in Cherbourg, and wire from Paris for the return fare home."—Frankfurter Illustratie.

IN THE SAME BOAT

He—You don't know how nervous I was when I proposed to you. She—And you don't know how nervous I was until you did so.

The Exception

The Wife—Of course women have more patience and endurance than men.

Mr. Peewee—Not always. The cook has left because she wouldn't be bossed by a woman, and I've been married to you 12 years.

Friends Of Racing Favor Cut In Take

By J. W. MARCHBANK

My notion that the commission on pari mutuel pools at the race tracks of California should be reduced from twelve to nine per cent is winning wide acclaim these days and encourages me in my hope the requisite change will be made at the fast approaching session of the Legislature. My sense of fairness prompted me to make the proposal in the first place and the more thought I give to it the more convinced I become fair play is the basis on which the change should be asked from the fair-minded men going to Sacramento in the early part of January.

I have maintained all along in my advocacy of the trimming down of the altogether too high "take" that we should never lose sight of the fact patent to all true lovers of the game that racing should be conducted strictly as a sport. There is no place in racing for the promoter with an obsession to become fabulously rich in a few seasons. When men and women realize the racing is put on solely for their entertainment and with no unsportsmanlike design lurking in the background support is bound to be hearty and spontaneous.

A comparatively low commission on the pools makes for better sport. The grade of the pastime should be gradually raised to make it ever more popular. The lesson that a reasonable "take" goes hand in hand with the most liberal purses was learned long ago. And, as all fans of vision know, liberal purses mean the best of sport.

As George Daley, one of the keenest among the sports writers of the country, recently said:

"In owning a racing stable the lean years far overbalance the fat years when it comes to figuring up profits and losses."

It takes a sportsman to take a chance in owning a large string of thoroughbreds. So with a race track. If sportsmanship with the highest ideals is not paramount the gates might as well be closed and kept closed. It is that kind of sportsmanship that calls for fair play to the fan, principally in a low "take," as I have emphasized all through my campaign this year for a change from twelve to nine per cent.

AN INCREASED PRODUCTION OF CARS EXPECTED

Dealers Are Optimistic As To Greater Volume of Sales Next Year

Ford dealers throughout the country are optimistic over the prospects for the coming year, when the Ford Motor Company, is to produce 1,000,000 cars and trucks, according to an announcement made by Henry Ford.

Four years have passed since the Ford Motor Company had a production of 1,000,000 units. However, Henry Ford said, when asked about his 1935 production: "Make it 1,000,000 or better. Our experience during the past six months and what we see in the future tells us a year of improved business is ahead."

Not only Ford dealers, but men handling practically every other make of automobile were elated over Ford's reassuring statement. The general opinion is that if Ford will build 1,000,000 cars in 1935 business will be good for other manufacturers and their dealers.

Proving that Ford's announcement of a projected million-year for 1935 is more than an optimistic statement, Ford dealers throughout the country point to the fact that for several weeks commitments have been going out from Ford headquarters at Dearborn on a buying and production program that will entail a total expenditure of more than $415,000,000. This vast amount is to be spent among 6,008 suppliers scattered throughout the United States.

When large scale production is resumed early in December the Ford monthly payroll in the Detroit district alone will run over $6,861,000, according to official figures disclosed by executives of the Ford Company. It is estimated that when the drive to produce 1,000,000 cars is in full swing 87,000 men will be employed in the Ford industrial army.

The 1935 Ford project calls for spending tremendous sums. For instance, it is estimated that the bringing in of raw materials will require 164,000 cars and outgoing products will require 160,000 cars, involving payment of freight bills, largely to the railroads, of $74,000,000.

One of the large expenditures of major importance will be for non-ferrous metals. In addition to the steel made in the Ford mills, the sum of $53,000,000 will go for steel in the open market.

SHE "CAN" TAKE IT!

Virginia Coker, 4-H Club girl, of Clay county, Alabama, won three trophies in the international canning contest recently.

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Some Little Known Matters That Should Prove of General Interest

(By Mauda Larue Ives)

Question: Where is platinum principally mined?

Answer: The Ural Mountains, in Russia, contain the largest known deposits. It is also found in Colombia in South America, Borneo, Canada, and in California, Oregon and Nevada in the United States.

Question: What are the names and records of some of the famous race horses of days gone by?

Answer: Imported Messenger, the first great trotter, who covered a mile in a little less than three minutes; Maud S. and Jay Eye Eee, who, in 1884, made the mile in 2:08 3/4; Lou Dillon, who was the first horse to do a mile in two minutes. The fastest time for a trotter in 1913, was 1:54 1/2 and was made by Uhlan. Dan Patch established the pacing record of 1:55 for the mile in 1906. Cherry Pie established the best running record up to that time for the mile in 1923, the time being 1:35 2-5.

Question: Why is the name "Irish" applied to potatoes?

Answer: They have been so called because of their introduction into Ireland as a staple crop saved the people from the terrible famines that had often devastated the country, and not because they are native to that island.

Question: What is the largest of living birds?

Answer: The ostrich. A full grown bird of this species stands from seven to eight feet in height and weighs between 200 and 300 pounds.

Question: Where and when was the first printing press installed in the United States?

Answer: At Harvard College, in 1639.

Question: Who was the youngest president of the United States?

Answer: Theodore Roosevelt, who was not quite forty-three when he succeeded to the presidency on the death of William McKinley.

PHONE COMPANY OFFICIAL RETIRES

John H. Corcoran, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., will retire on December 1 after forty-seven years of service, it was announced.

Corcoran advanced through the ranks to his present position, beginning his telephone career as an office boy in San Francisco in 1887 when there were only 2291 telephones in the city and 150 telephone employees. Today the telephones number 239,000, and the employees 4600.

Growing up with the business, which he entered when the telephone itself was only eleven years old, he progressed steadily and became in turn repairman, installer, wire chief, manager, general superintendent and vice-president and general manager.

Telephone people yesterday recalled incidents of Corcoran's outstanding career and contribution to the telephone business. They declared that his associates on each job as he advanced became his friends in increasing number until today they total thousands who have a personal regret in seeing him leave telephone circles, but who extend to him heartiest congratulations on his record and good wishes for a well earned retirement from active service.

Mark R. Sullivan, general traffic manager of the Northern California area of the company, will succeed Corcoran as vice-president and general manager. Sullivan, who is forty years of age, was born in Oakland, obtained his education in the public schools, and, like Corcoran, also came up through the ranks, starting as clerk in 1912.

Rain Spots On Hood

Rain drops which are left to dry on a hood that is hot from a long run may cause spots that are difficult or impossible to remove, according to emergency road service of the California State Automobile Association. This can be avoided by sponging off the hood with a chamois and wiping dry immediately after being out in the rain.

USER CO-ORDINATION OF NRA CODES

With the information gathered in series of conferences just concluded in fifteen major business centers between representatives of the National Recovery Administration local code authority groups, the NRA will now concentrate its activities on an intensive effort for closer coordination of local code administration agencies.

Suggestions received from the field are being used to coordinate the work of the group conferences. In groups, in turn, were asked to present and to formulate other suggestions of their own. By such an interchange of ideas and suggestions between local code authorities and headquarters representatives, the emphasis was given to the national principle of NRA—the government of American business.

During these conferences particular emphasis was made to plans evolved at local code authority meetings as a group at regular intervals for the discussion of mutual problems, and in Boston, which served as a committee of eleven and coordinated plans for concentrating local agencies.

From all suggestions received an outline was evolved and laid before regional group conferences for discussion and future consideration. This outline embodied as one principle, the concentration of all local code authorities, with eleven national offices—one for each of the industry or trade groups into which the internal organization of the National Recovery Administration is divided. These are food, textiles, chemicals, manufacturing, construction, public utilities, graphic arts, recreation, and distribution.

Complaints received under any code of particular division could be docked in the division office and set for consideration by the particular local code authority. Other vital suggestions were received and are being given careful consideration by the National Industrial Recovery Board. It is felt that the groundwork has been laid in the recent conferences for a really constructive advance in co-ordination of local code administration agencies.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK

National Code Institute Organized New York: With the purpose of fostering better relations between employers and employees under section 7-A of the National Industrial Recovery Act and of promoting industrial research under code operation business, the National Code Institute has been formed and has opened offices in New York. The institute is composed of Dr. Bruno Burn, economist and industrial authority; John Beecroft, formerly deputy administrator under the NRA in Washington; Lawrence Craner, until recently associated with the New York State NRA office; and A. F. Coyle, until recently executive vice president of the American Insurance Union. The institute announced that it will function along the following lines: "The primary objectives of the National Code Institute will be to represent the interests of individual firms and groups with respect to problems arising under the various codes of their respective industries, both with regard to the rulings of their code authority itself as well as representation before the various branches of the NRA in Washington.

"It will also endeavor to co-operate in an advisory and administrative capacity with code authorities and trade associations. It furthermore aims to act as a clearing house for the mutual exchange of experience gathered by business under the different code regulations in order to promote greater uniformity and constructive amendment of those provisions. Of special importance is the proper correlation of code provisions in related industries so as to eliminate overlapping and contradictory rules of fair competition.

Code Group Plans NRA Label Drive: Leading code authorities in the apparel industries will begin a national campaign early in January through the newly formed Apparel Codes Label Council to sell the NRA label to the people of the country, it was announced by Miss Bessie Beatty, secretary of the council, following a meeting at the Pennsylvania. A fund of $75,000 is planned, with the various code authorities contributing 2 per cent of their net budget. Six code authorities already have agreed to support the movement, and nine more are expected to join the campaign. Those industries who have become members of the council and who have agreed to contribute to the fund are coats and suits, dresses, knitted outerwear, infants' and children's wear, men's and boys' clothing, and blouses and skirts. George W. Alger, director of the Coat and Suit Code Authority, is chairman of the council, and George W. Bell, executive director of the Men's Clothing Code Authority, is treasurer.

Pullman Profits Six Times Higher: Pullman, Inc., and subsidiaries, reported for the three months ended September 30 a net profit of $2,137,887, equal to 56 cents a share on the capital stock, against $353,491, or 9 cents a share, in the same period last year. For the nine months to September 30, the net was $2,461,981, or 64 cents a share, against a net loss of $2,268,121 in the corresponding time in 1933.

Christmas Clubs To Receive $370,000,000: The sum of $370,000,000 will be distributed to about 7,500,000 members of the Christmas Club by approximately 500 banking institutions and organizations within the next two weeks, according to an estimate made by Herbert F. Rawlin, founder and president of the Christmas Club, a corporation. The total distribution represents an increase of about 6 per cent over last year, he stated. Each member of the Christmas Club will receive an average of $48.25, the increased average accumulation for each member being about 10 per cent, it was stated.

Assessors Food Code Has Kept Down Cost Of Living: C. H. Janssen, chairman of the National Food and Grocery Distributors' Code Authority, discussing the National Recovery Administration, declared that the food code has kept down the cost of living and expressed hope that Congress will preserve the best elements in the trade code system. The codes, he declared, have been beneficial alike to business and to the public. "Even a casual survey of the new Congress," said Mr. Janssen, "would indicate that successful candidates of both parties have indicated sympathetic support of the trade code idea. A critical period of trial and error is drawing to a close," he continued. "Mistakes that could only have been revealed by actual practice have arisen to plague administrators of codes. Yet it has been demonstrated already in these early days that codes have proven beneficial both to industry and to the public. In the food code the elimination of destructive practices has resulted in keener attention to constructive competition and lowering to the consumer the general average of all food products. The nation's food bill today would therefore be much higher but for the code under which its grocers are operating.

"It was the part of political wisdom in the past election to maintain a constructive attitude toward this new form of economic self-determination by trades. Our advice, from many reliable sources, indicate that business is hopeful that the new Congress will preserve the best elements of the trade code system."

Fifty Million Gain Store Sales: The consumers of the Nation spent $454,326,000 in department stores, mail-order, general chain, and variety stores in October, an expenditure increase of more than $50,000,000, as compared with the $404,062,000 spent in September, and a gain of more than $65,000,000 as against the $389,276,000 spent in October last year, according to figures revealed by A. W. Zelonek, economist and director of the International Statistical Bureau. The October rise marked the largest total for that month since 1931, he said. For the first ten months of the year expenditures were $3,625,000,000, a gain of approximately $550,000,000 over the corresponding period of 1933.

October Auto Sales 21 Per Cent Over Last Year: Sales of passenger cars in October in thirteen states reported to date total 25,383, according to R. L. Polk and Co. This is an increase of 21.06 per cent over the 20,967 registrations reported by the same states for October, 1933, and a gain of 2.77 per cent over the 24,652 new cars registered in these states during September this year. On the basis of returns from the thirteen states which represent 15.43 per cent of the United States, Polk estimates that October registrations will reach 150,000 units.

Ten Per Cent n GaForecastrd r o Ten Per Cent Textile Gain Forecast For 1935. Statistics covering textile mill activity in October when tabulated will show a marked pickup for the month, it is forecast by Textile World. It also predicts 1935 activity 10 per cent higher than 1934.

Loose Springs

A loose front spring U bolt, sagged or weak front spring, or any condition which affects front end alignment, may cause the car to swerve when brakes are applied, according to the emergency road service of the California Automobile Association.

Priming Not Necessary

It is unnecessary to prime the carburetor when the car has run out of fuel if the engine is fitted with a fuel pump, remarks L. G. Evans, director of roadside service of the National Automobile Club.

Fire Safeguard

Keep a barrel or pail of soil or sand in the garage to be used as an extinguisher in case of fire, suggests the emergency road service of the California State Automobile Association.

OLD HISTORICAL DATA OF THE COLMA VALLEY

Incidents of Pioneer Days and Characters Recalled For Our Readers

(By An Old-Timer)

School Street—Thornton Beach Following Supervisor "Good Roads Jim Casey's" suggestion of extending School street to Thornton Beach, the enterprise became so popular that it was greeted with spontaneous approval by every public spirited citizen of San Mateo County. A mass meeting was held in Colma Hall on November 26, 1909, at which many prominent people from all over the county were in attendance, including George Sneath, County Surveyor Jimmy Newman, County Clerk Joseph H. Nash, Judge Buck, County Treasurer P. P. Chamberlain, District Attorney Bullock, Sheriff Robert Chatham, Superintendent of Schools Roy Cloud, Supervisors Patsy McEvoy, Joseph Francis, Dr. Blackburn and Bill Brown, and others among whom were Judge Ambrose McSweeney, C. C. Cunningham and W. J. Martin of South City. Assemblyman Henry Ward Brown of Colma called the meeting to order and nominated Mr. George Sneath for chairman, which was approved by acclamation. Mr. Sneath, in accepting the chairmanship, expressed his pride at the honor bestowed by so important a gathering, saying that he regarded the project as most important to San Mateo County if we desired the extension of San Francisco in this direction, and in that connection he actually prophesied the present Skyline boulevard from the Cliff House along the ocean west of Lake Merced and on to the southward over King's Mountain to Santa Cruz, and said that the School street extension would be of the utmost importance. It was but natural that Mr. Sneath's optimistic ideas regarding the Skyline boulevard were not considered very seriously, as the territory between the ocean and Lake Merced was at that time regarded as absolutely impossible for such a boulevard as is at present making thousands of motorists happy every day; but every speaker at the meeting heartily approved the extension of School street to Thornton Beach, and by unanimous vote Supervisor Casey was authorized to proceed with all possible speed with the surveying and in securing rights of way.

When this was done, "Good Roads Jim Casey" left not a stone unturned to build this valuable road for the people. Supervisors McEvoy, Joseph Francis, Brown and Dr. Blackburn volunteered loans from their respective road funds and even suggested bond issues, but Supervisor Casey preferred to do the job alone and expended every possible dollar from his First District road fund that could be spared, amounting to $85,000 at the expiration of his second term. Then ensued the non-action of his successor in permitting the $85,000 already spent to go to waste. This $85,000 included the building of that "Portals of the Past" concrete bridge at a cost of $40,000 that stands within a hundred yards of the Skyline boulevard at a point due west from the intersection of School street and the Junipero Serra boulevard, a distance of less than a mile.

It certainly seems that the enthusiasm for the School street-Thornton Beach road, twenty-five years ago, should at least be given consideration in 1934, when the project is of far greater need than in 1909. Old Timer is informed that the records show that this improvement is and has been held up by County Surveyor James, and if this is true, that public servant should be "jacked up" or put out of commission entirely, because of his dereliction of duty.

Caleb Coakley for 1910 sheriff petition started with thirty-eight names the first day, Billy Silver doing the Tammammy act.

Mrs. B. W. Haubrich was the hostess at a clam bake party in honor of her charming little daughter Silvia at which, besides the elegantly prepared repast, there was music and dancing.

The Record editor called on Professor J. C. Pelton Sr. at Schiller street and San Diego avenue, where he resides with his son, finding the 80 year old veteran schoolmaster in good spirits and with remarkable vitality, considering his age. Besides school teaching, he was a poet, the equal if not the superior of Joaquin Miller. The first English language school in California was organized at Coloma in 1850 by Professor Pelton. He afterwards taught at Hangtown (Placerville), El Dorado, Plymouth, Amador City and Fort Sutter (Sacramento).

TRAFFIC SAFETY SESSION TO PLAN UNIFIED ACTION

Leaders in traffic safety efforts will plan a concerted attack on the accident problem at a conference to be held in San Francisco on Friday, December 7, at the Whitcomb Hotel. Representatives of civic groups active in the interests of traffic safety throughout northern and central California will attend the session to consider a program of united action to combat the increasing toll of deaths and injuries on streets and highways. Percy E. Towne, chairman of the Public Safety Committee of the California State Automobile Association, will preside. In a statement announcing the conference, Towne said:

"The traffic accident situation in California has become probably more serious than it has ever been. During the first ten months of this year there were 2231 fatalities on the streets and highways of the state. This was an increase of 329 deaths, or 17 per cent, over the same period last year.

"It is a situation which calls for immediate and concerted action. A conference has been called for December 7 in San Francisco, attended by representatives of public safety and traffic groups, enforcement officials, traffic judges and others who are taking a leading part in safety activities. The purposes of the conference are:

"To awaken the public to a full realization of the seriousness of the traffic accident problem.

"To unify and strengthen the efforts of those interested in finding a solution.

"To co-ordinate the efforts of the various safety groups and thereby help to render more effective the work of our enforcement authorities.

"To seek a solution for some of the outstanding traffic problems now confronting California, especially the growing menace of drunken driving."

It is proposed, Towne said, to select a committee to confer with a similar group from southern California and give statewide scope to a program for achieving these objectives.

Check Your Headlights

Glare is not the only defect of which headlights are guilty and the motorist can check the accuracy of this first dark night, states L. G. Evans, director of roadside service of the National Automobile Club. Safety advocates are pointing out on an increasing scale these days that there are tens of thousands of headlights that fail to give sufficient light for accidentless driving. Rusted and dirty reflectors, cracked lenses, poor connections, defective wiring, run down batteries, and other causes are responsible. Inadequate light requires check-up of many features. It is worth it.

CHRONOLOGY OF DECEMBER MONTH

December, the twelfth and last month of the year, derives its name from the Latin word decem, so familiar to the student of this language. It seems strange that it should be applied to this month, for it means ten; but, in the old Roman days before the reform of the calendar, December was the tenth month and March the first. Later, when two months were added, the numerical significance of its name had somewhat been lost sight of; at any rate, no learned Roman thought it of enough importance to call for a correction. One alteration occurred, however; for centuries this month had had but twenty-nine days, but Caesar added two, making it one of the longest months.

The holly is the special flower of the month and its gem is the turquoise.

The first of December is generally considered to begin the winter season, but in reality winter does not commence until December twenty-second, the day on which the sun reaches the solstice and turns back for its northward journey. In the northern hemisphere that is the shortest day of the year. In the southern hemisphere it is the longest, though for a month thereafter there is little perceptible change in the length of the days.

Though December is frequently spoken of as the "frosty month," or the icy month, it is not usually the coldest of the winter months, nor is it the most cheerless, for the good will, the crackling fires and the holly of approaching Christmas seem to shed a glow over all. The Romans made Vesta, the goddess of the hearth, the special deity of December, and this seems appropriate, for there is no time when hearth fires have a greater significance.

The great Christian festival of Christmas, celebrated on the twenty-fifth, is the chief holiday of the month; indeed, to the children at least, it is the chief holiday of the year. The thirty-first, the last day of the year, is known as New Year's Eve, and often partakes of the festivities with which the opening of the year is celebrated. New England has set apart the twenty-first for special reverence, and calls it Forefather's Day. On that day the Pilgrims, the "band of exiles, moored their bark on the wild New England shore," and began to make history that still influences the entire country.

This is one of the months in which Nature seems to be resting, which does not mean that there are no interesting out of doors phases. There are hardy evergreen trees and holly—how are they able to live when other plants seem practically dead? Why has not cold driven away the English sparrows and the chickadees? There are wonderful "Jack Frost" traceries everywhere to be seen, especially on the windows. Beautiful snow crystals can be examined under the microscope.

There are many strange achievements of the cold that are most interesting in December.

"Good-bye kind year; we walk no more together,
But here in quiet happiness we part,
And from thy wreath of faded fern and
heather,
I take some sprays and wear them on my heart."
—Broadway.

AMERICAN LEGION MID MONTH SOCIAL

(By L. M. Hill)

The first meeting of the Eighth District under District Commander Charles P. Dodd Jr. will be held in South San Francisco Sunday, December 9. There will be a parade in the morning and an initiation of new members is planned for the opening of the afternoon session, with one candidate from each Post in the district.

The first mid month social will be held in Legion Hall, Saturday evening, December 8. Comrade Whitney, as chairman, promises something new in Post entertainment.

If for no other reason than service to the disabled and to the widows and orphans of deceased war veterans, the American Legion needs no further recommendation. Without the trumpet blare of publicity, thousands of needy cases have been helped through the service officers of over 10,000 Posts; and, as long as the Legion exists, and as long as there is a single veteran left who through his war service is prevented from properly maintaining his family and himself, the Legion will continue "to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness."

MINING NOTES OF VARIOUS SECTIONS

An important ore strike is reported in from Glacier Creek, in the Hyder district, which may well prove to be one of the most valuable that has been made in this section during the past season.

A seven-foot vein of ore has been crosscut on this property that gives assay values running well up in silver and, most important of all, a half ounce of gold. The management is greatly enthused over the showing and are planning on drifting both ways on the vein in order to ascertain the extent of the find.

The new 50-ton mill at the Newmont property adjoining the Cariboo Gold Quartz on Jack of Clubs Lake in the Quesnel district was turned over a week ago and the management expects to keep it busy from now on. The program of development work that has been under way on Island Mountain for the past year has been very successful and judging from the permanent structures that have been erected on the property, the management is planning on future operations on a much larger scale than their 50-ton pilot mill would indicate. According to report they have been encountering some extremely high grade ore in their development work, and in widths that are unusual even in this district noted for its large ore bodies. They are reported to have one developed vein ten feet in width that assays gold values up to and in excess of 3 ounces of gold to the ton. They have driven a raise through to the surface on this vein a distance of 600 feet much of which is in ore.

Recently the owners of the Burns Mountain Mines, located on Lightning Creek, between Chisholm and Amadore Creeks, Messrs Fuller and Hawes, called in Fred M. Wells, managing superintendent of the Cariboo Gold Quartz during its development days, and a man possibly better informed on ore structures in the Cariboo than any other mining man in Canada. This action was taken because there have been various reports as to the values to be found on the property, as well as to the judgment used in laying out the development work that has been completed to date. Mr. Wells will make a thorough survey and report.

FORMER PIONEER RESIDENT PASSES

An old pioneer of Daly City, Mrs. Josephine M. Poket, died Wednesday of this week, aged 89 years, 11 months and 3 days. She was the widow of the late Israel Poket and the mother of Ezra, Oliver, Henry and James J. Poket and Mrs. James Oberon and Mrs. James A. Kennedy. She was a native of France.

Mr. and Mrs. Poket arrived in this city in 1903.

Mrs. Poket was a most exemplary citizen and commanded the respect of a large circle of friends and acquaintances here and elsewhere.

Funeral services will be conducted from a San Francisco mortuary, and thence to St. Charles Church, where a requiem high mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a. m. Interment will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

MERIDIAN MINE TO HAVE MILL OF HUNDRED TONS

Low Water Cost Already Provided And Tramway Will Be Rebuilt

The following article from Sidney Norman, mining editor of the Vancouver Sun, was recently published in that journal:

NELSON, Nov. 10.—Meridian Mining Co. Ltd., operating Eva and Criterion groups of 32 claims near Camborne, Lardeau mining division, will immediately construct a 100-ton mill on Pool Creek, half a mile from Camborne, according to Sidney Norman, noted mining expert.

The decision, which was formally ratified by directors at their meeting in Vancouver this morning, was reached last week after examination of reserves and rechecking of over 1000 samples by B. W. McDougall, consulting engineer, who estimates sufficient ore immediately available to run the plant for over one year, with enough new sources of supply partially developed to warrant assumption that another three or four years' tonnage is reasonably assured and possibility of greatly increased reserves as development proceeds.

The plant will be of the straight flotation type, designed and constructed by Stanley Grey, one of the most successful mill contractors of the province and associated with Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. for many years.

The old building, which housed the original ten-stamp mill, built 31 years ago and which is in an excellent state of uppreservation, will be used for the new plant, so that there will be no large construction expense.

Tests Satisfactory

Tests made during the past few months indicate a total saving of around 95 per cent. For the present, at least, concentrate will be shipped to Trail smelter, but it is entirely possible that cyaniding will be added to the practice as soon as the plant has thoroughly demonstrated its efficiency.

In preparation for delivery of the ore when the mill is ready and immediate transportation of supplies at minimum of expense, the bucket tramway, 3600 feet long, is being rebuilt under direction of B. C. Riblet Tramway Co., the original builders 30 years ago. The cable is now being strung and it is expected that this phase of the work will be completed before the middle of next month.

Development of 1000 horsepower on Pool Creek has already been completed at cost of $40,000 and the operation will enjoy adequate power at a cost as low as any in the province. A new compressor with a capacity of at least 1000 cubic feet is to be added immediately, supplanting the present 740 cubic-foot Ingersoll Rand machine of outdated design.

Cost $75,000

It is expected that the entire project will be completed at a cost of about $75,000, with probability that the plant will be turning over before Feb. 1, 1935. Primary equipment will be of such capacity that mill duty can be raised to 200 tons daily at additional installation cost of $15,000.

Managing Director J. C. Calhoun, who assumed complete charge three months ago, is personally supervising the work and expresses his intention of pushing construction to the limit.

Under direction of E. J. Conway, M.E., mine superintendent, the workings of the Eva and Criterion mines, aggregating over 14,000 feet, have been carefully mapped, and nearly 1000 samples taken to define commercial orebodies.

At the present time 51 men are employed at mine and mill with between 15 and 20 tramway construction. The camp has been entirely renovated and several buildings, including enlarged cookhouse and bunkhouse, assay office and other accommodations, added.

For the present, operations will be confined to the Criterion orebodies, but when the plant is under full headway, connection will be made with the Eva workings, thus adding largely to available reserves.

In earlier years, Eva milled 30,555 tons of ore averaging $569 with gold at the old price. The same ore is now worth $9673 per ton with gold at $34.

Criterion Tonnage

Former production from Criterion reached 14,000 tons, mined between level No. 1 and surface, averaging $3.75 per ton, old gold price. Losses were around 40 per cent, so that the same ore would today be worth over $10 per ton, with gold at $34 an ounce.

Consulting Engineer McDougall's calculations have been made upon estimated average mill heads of 3 oz. or $10 per ton. Overall costs are estimated at between $5 and $6 per ton, on 100 ton basis, which is contemplated for early spring if first unit works satisfactorily.

BOUND TO GET A REST!

In compliance with his request, relatives arranged to have the body of William Young, 64, retired merchant of Parsons, W. Va., placed on a cot and lowered into a concrete vault in the ground.

"Look! Just use these electric appliances a little more and the EXTRA Electricity you use — you get at half-price"

One-half Off means that you get a 50% discount on the amount of money by which your bill for any month at same location exceeds your bill for corresponding month a year previous. This applies to this company's domestic customers and commercial lighting customers over the entire system.

Let electric appliances do more work for you. For in December and throughout 1935 they will do EXTRA work at half cost. It won't pay to economize by using the washboard instead of the washing machine; the broom and dustpan instead of the vacuum cleaner. EXTRA Electricity at half price means easier, more comfortable home life for everyone through the fuller use of electricity at an added cost of only a few pennies a day.

If there is an electric appliance such as refrigerator, heater, ironer, dishwasher, range or water heater that you have always wanted — get it now! Put it to work through 1935 and what you save by 1/2 Off on EXTRA Electricity will help pay for it. Come in and let us tell you about this. Talk with your electric appliance dealer. Do it today.

WANT TO KNOW REASON OF HIRE OF OUTSIDE HELP

said the policy of employing outside investigators was one set up by the San Mateo County committee and was not imposed by state or federal agencies.

Members of the board declared that, the statement credited to Northrup is true, the supervisors have been misinformed about the true status in this matter.

The board also passed a resolution for intervention by the county at the rapid transit proceedings opening before the State Railroad Commission at San Francisco this week.

The board approved retention of Attorneys Paul A. McCarthy of Redwood City and Harry M. Wade of San Francisco to act as "watch dogs" for the county's interests at the proceedings. The fee for the safeguarding of the county's interests in the hearings for retaining these lawyers, amounting to $500, was ordered transferred from the unbudgeted reserve fund.

The matter of retaining the attorneys for this purpose was proposed to the board by County Clerk Hinman as chairman of the Peninsula Chambers of Commerce rapid transit committee last week.

The purpose of the action on the part of the board was to thwart alleged intention of the Southern Pacific Company to disregard Peninsula rapid transit arrangements through formation of a so-called interurban electric company which, it is claimed, is aimed only for service to east bay bridge commuters.

"If we succeed only in holding the present transportation arrangement, in which both the eastbay communities and the Peninsula are serviced by the Southern Pacific Company," Attorney Wade said, "we will have gone a long way toward doing the best possible for the future interests of the Peninsula."

The supervisors sent a petition to E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway Patrol, requesting that the patrol unit in this county be enlarged. They pointed out the many accidents which have occurred in the county on state highways recently and declared more men are greatly needed here.

Unemployment relief projects, including two in Burlingame, were approved by the board. These projects provide for construction of a wall at the high school and work on the North Burlingame drainage system.

Another project, which won the approval of the board, provides for a survey of sewage disposal systems in unincorporated areas throughout the county, to determine their condition.

The present land use survey now being conducted throughout the county by the Planning Commission, will be continued as an unemployment project, according to decision of the board.

The $80,000 school bond issue, recently adopted by the electors of the Jefferson School District in Daly City, was also given the board's approval.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Diller have returned to Ketchikan, Alaska, after a stay of two and a half months in California. They expect to be back again some time next fall. They both like Alaska, but say it doesn't compare with our sunny state.

BIG INCREASE IN BUILDING PERMITS

General Uptrend Shown By Business Review Of The Bank of America

Outstanding increases in the number and value of building permits issued throughout eight western states during October vouch for the success of the National Housing Program in this area, according to the November issue of the Bank of America Business Review.

Fifty-five cities in eight Far Western states reported building permits totaling $7,623,065 last month, an increase of $3,191,809, or 72 per cent, over the preceding month, and a gain of 35.2 per cent over October, 1933.

In addition to the encouraging fact that the dollar value of Western building permits was at an exceptionally high level during October, it was notable that the number of permits registered an outstanding gain. These increases were registered in both metropolitan and rural areas, and particularly noticeable were the number and value of permits issued for alterations and repairs.

Outstanding gains in building permits during October as compared with September were registered by nineteen out of 32 reporting California cities. The largest increase was reported by Santa Rosa, with 508 per cent. San Francisco's increase was 338 per cent.

Farm value of California's agricultural commodities for 1934, based on estimated yields and prices prevailing November 1, will approximate $434,065,000, a 7.9 per cent gain over 1933, according to the November issue of the Review.

The estimated 1934 total of farm value of crops and livestock is approximately $31,670,000 more than the total for 1933 and is $68,514,000 higher than in 1932. This year's total includes $4,000,000 in benefit payments from wheat and cotton reduction and the corn-hog program.

The general level of prices received by California farmers for twenty-four basic commodities last month was 84 per cent of the 1910-1915 average, which represents an increase of 25.7 per cent over October, 1933.

Bank of America's preliminary index of October business, compiled from bank debits, electric power production and carloadings, stood at 60.2 last month, as against 60.1 for October, 1933.

For the first ten months of this year, bank debits in California have shown a gain of 11.4 per cent over the corresponding 1933 period, while debits for the month of October were 11.6 per cent above the like month a year ago.

An exceptionally large increase in retail trade in California occurred during October, the Review says, and inasmuch as the major portion of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District's retail business is transacted in this state, the gain was reflected for the total of western states. October retail trade in California was up 20.6 per cent over October, 1933.
